WHEN GANS LOST OUT

Colored Fighter Attempted Too Much in Going Out of His Class

Joseph Gans, champion despite the slight difference of cuticle pigment that caused him to be classed with the darker side of life, taught the boxing world a lesson it seems reluctant to profit from. The teaching of Joseph was involuntary and eventually the price he paid for instructing mankind was his life, says the Detroit News.

Incidentally, Billy Nolan, one time manager of Bat Nelson, if he has such a thing as a conscience, must sit up at night, leading with the ghost of Joseph to let him forget and sleep.

The Gans lesson briefly is: You can't make a welterweight into a lightweight without paying the price.

When Nelson was matched with Gans for their fight at Goldfield, Nev., the negro champion was a heavy welterweight and many of his battles had been at over 140 pounds. He agreed to make 133 pounds, ringside, for Nelson, and the day of the fight he weighed in at that figure. In fact, the inexorable Billy Nolan made him weigh in three times the same day. He insisted, too, on the then unprecedented condition that Gans get on the scales in his ring paraphernalia, adding another two pounds or so to the utter misery of Gans.

Dedicated to mere skin and bone, the negro made it—the dry air of Goldfield permitted him to do this, and he fought a good fight and retained his title. But it was the last expiring spark of an outraged nature. In two battles, with Nelson that followed his exhausted frame offered little resistance to Nelson. Tuberculosis had gripped him even then and he was an easy knockout victim for the Durable Dane in both contests.

CAPT. BRIDGER TO RETURN TO THIS CITY

To add interest to the motion pictures to be taken of Ogden and its vicinity, the Ogden Publicity bureau has decided to have a slight plot dealing with the supposed return of the spirit of Captain Bridger, the pioneer and trapper who lived in Utah before the first band of pioneers arrived here. It was Captain Bridger who met Brigham Young and his party and he gave out much valuable information concerning the country.

The picture taking will begin with the arrival of the trapper, clothed in the conventional garments of a backwoodsman and appearing most astonished at what he sees in a place where he formerly trapped and hunted.

He will be taken through the streets to the schools, churches and public buildings and, as a final treat, will be given an automobile ride to the canyon and to the power dam.

It is the purpose of the bureau to introduce as much life and action into the pictures as possible. Two advantages will be gained by doing so. The pictures will be more interesting and all who have the honor of being photographed will be eager to attend the exhibition of the film and see themselves as others see them.

The pictures will be taken during the latter part of May.

TO STANDARD SUBSCRIBERS

The Evening Standard business office closes at 8 o'clock each evening. Complaints for papers must be made before that time to receive attention. If you do not get your paper by 6:20 o'clock p. m., call up telephone No. 56 and ask for the circulation manager.

CONFERENCE IS ON STATE ROADS

While Caleb Tanner's term of office as state engineer is about to expire, due to the failure of Governor William Spry to present his name to the state senate for another term, he nevertheless is still on the job and as active as though he were to continue for an indefinite time.

They say that is the way Caleb Tanner has always done things. He attends to business first, last and all the time in the interests of the people, regardless of the emoluments of office and regardless of politics.

He lost his position as engineer because he was a pronounced Progressive and all the jobs on earth could not induce him to take any other stand politically. He never whimpers but gets busy and attends to things, and no man's hand would he kiss.

Mr. Tanner today conferred with District Forester E. A. Sherman regarding road building in the state in connection with the road operations of the forest service.

Mr. Sherman says that Mr. Tanner has been an active worker for the betterment of the state roads. The forest department has found in him a man of sterling worth and ability in the engineering line, and the forest department has been enabled to accomplish much good with him at the head of the state engineering department.

The road most talked of by Mr. Tanner and Mr. Sherman was that leading over the divide east of Salina into Castle valley. This is the easiest grade over the divide between Sevier, San Pete and Emery counties, and both Mr. Tanner and the forest department are eager to place the road in good condition.

HIGH SCHOOL IS VISITED BY MANY

Superintendent John M. Mills personally conducted a party of twenty representative citizens of Ogden through the Ogden high school this morning. No special exercises were held in honor of the visitors, the purpose of the trip being to show the workings of the various departments of the schools and give the members of the party an opportunity to observe the work of the students.

To some it was the first visit to the high school since it has been built, and they were surprised at the size and completeness of the structure. Superintendent Mills explained the various departments and answered questions.

At the Central junior high, the present method of educating seventh and eighth grade students in a manner similar to the methods of high schools were explained. Class rooms were visited and the manual training department came in for attention.

The members of the party were: Mayor A. G. Fell, Judge W. H. Reeder, S. J. Griffin, J. J. Brumfield, James Douglas, H. H. Goddard, J. M. Forristall, Chris. Flygare, D. W. Wheelwright, N. A. Tanner, Dr. George W. Baker, Charles Zeimer, J. W. Levedahl, Hyrum Pingree, Carl Rasmussen, Dr. A. S. Condon, George J. Kelly and George Shorten.

TOWNS STREWN WITH WRECKAGE

Memphis, Tenn., March 21.—Walnut Ridge is reported to have been greatly damaged and two negroes killed and ten injured.

The country between Hoxie, Black Rock and Walnut Ridge, Ark., is strewn with wreckage of all kinds. Bed quilts, sheets and clothing waved from tree tops and the ground is covered with timber, pieces of iron and parts of wagons and buggies.

At Hoxie a hotel in the course of construction was blown down, the railroad station destroyed, an adjacent building entirely flattened, three brick store buildings partly blown down and the school building wrecked.

According to the passengers and train crew the storm swept a path about half a mile wide as far as could be seen from Poplar Bluff toward Little Rock.

There was no damage east of Hoxie. Couriers from Poplar Bluff to Hoxie reported that few farm houses were left standing in that vicinity.

Fear is expressed that the death list will be greater than at present reported, as the heaviest blow came at the time when the people were in their homes.

The St. Louis, Iron Mountain & Southern railroad station at Minturn, Ark., south of Hoxie, was blown away. It cannot be learned how much damage resulted from the storm in that section, as the railroad and commercial wires are down north and east of Little Rock.

The building of the Bradley Mercantile company at Bradley, Ark., was blown down and other damage done in that vicinity.

THEATERS

AT THE ORPHEUM.

The Orpheum, on Saturday, Sunday and Monday is to present pictures in proof of the charges made that Madero was assassinated and that Ambassador Wilson sent false reports of the killing to this country.

The pictures were taken by Frank Part who has just returned from the City of Mexico. They show where Madero was put to death and how the crime was committed.
